SUMMARY

A small army barracks area is located on the eastern edge of Chop (Figure 1). The installation (Figures 2 and 3) consists of 10 barracks, two administration/headquarters buildings, two maintenance sheds, and four miscellaneous storage buildings.

KEYHOLE [REDACTED] covered the installation in [REDACTED] and it has remained relatively unchanged since that time. Mission [REDACTED] shows some minor changes in Area E. Two barracks buildings may have been torn down or remodeled into storage facilities. This barracks area probably serves a dual role as a barracks area for border guards and as military headquarters for the Chop railroad yards and transshipment area.

The installation was covered by five KEYHOLE missions between [REDACTED]
